

ABSTRACT

The invention provides improvements in the field of animal models for testing effects of genes introduced into animal cells or tissue by adenoviral gene transfer. More particularly the invention provides a plasmid construct that expresses a porcine adenovirus receptor (pCAR) and transgenic animals that show expression of pCAR.